

Sometimes God leads us to people, sometimes He brings them to us. I believe that God brought us Tatiana. She is a young woman who is selling fruit and vegetables at the Market, right beside where I expose my products. For more than once, we have talked about the faith and she is asking many questions and demonstrating interest about the Word. She has told me many things about her personal life and, last Saturday, Tatiana cried when she told me the struggles she was facing. I ask that you help us and that you ask for a miracle for Tatiana, for the enemy has kept her on a path that strays from the purposes of God. When I look at her and my faith shrinks, I remember the words: "Is there anything too difficult for God?"

On the contrary, I believe God has led me to Ms. Juliana. Through the intermediate of my voluntary work in Cartaxo, for more than six months I have helped this lady with groceries and transportation. I have shared the Bible and prayed with her on a few occasions. This Sunday, Pt. Adil, his wife Érica and I went to visit her. She never smiles but this Sunday she did and told me how great it was for her to receive our visit. It touches me to look at how God takes care of this lady. I really do believe that He brought me to her house to give her the Word of hope. I am anxious to see what the Lord will still do in the life of D. Julieta.

The other day I went to Mss. Maria José's flower shop and she was very depressed because her husband was in the hospital, due to a stroke. I talked with her and then asked if she allowed me to pray for her and her husband. She willingly accepted, we prayed and a few days later, when I returned, she had a big smile in her face, for her husband was already back from the hospital. This is great news, but not the best! May Ms. Maria José soon have in her face a new, bigger smile, and praise for our God.

The work in the Marketplace has been a great finding for our ministry. I have understood that work like this can open new doors, allow for new relationships, and attract disciples for Jesus. People don't become defensive, and, in time, we can make a difference in their lives through cordiality, happiness and excellence. I believe this is a good path to make people around us ask for the reason of our faith.

God also brings us people to bless our lives. I thank God for Pt. Adil and Érica, colleagues and true friends. They were able to find a home in Cartaxo and that will certainly advance our ministry.

Luso Cristã team meetings in Santo António do Tojal with Pt. Fabiano Fernandes has brought great improvements on our team unity. We have dedicated to prayer, vision and strategic planning, with the dream of blessing Portugal with the advancement of His kingdom through strong churches. Cartaxo, Vila Franca, Alverca and Mafra are places where each of us is casting a seed. In Alhandra, I have just met Mr. Sebastião, Mss. Maria dos Anjos and Paulo. I ask God that He may give me wisdom and good opportunities for preaching the Gospel.

The Lord also have brought you to Cartaxo. Your prayers, messages, offerings and all the support you have been giving are gifts that come from God with the unique touch from everyone of you. Help us through prayer so that the Lord may show us who He wants to hear the Word.

"Behold, three men seek thee. But arise, and get thee down, and go with them, nothing doubting: for I have sent them."
