

A small but mighty church –

The Biblical Baptist Church is still under construction, but it already invests in missions. This year, it also began supporting Rute, a young Portuguese missionary who works with university students. The work continues from generation to generation, in fulfillment of Jesus' commission.

Summer Camps –

A synergistic partnership between the Portuguese Biblical Institute and the Luso-Christian Church came together in Santo Antão do Tojal for the sake of children and youth. This summer, two weeks of camps were held. The theme explored was very timely and necessary: "The Bible and the Net for Everyone." It was a time of sharing and constant challenge for the younger ones to live more balanced lives, keeping their minds, hearts, and bodies healthy.

News about CrisBel.

We have now submitted all the documentation to the Cartaxo City Council. We are now waiting for the company to be legalized so that the products can be sold in stores across the country. The dream is to expand the brand's reach and see the Word of God printed on jars and packaging distributed throughout the country—and who knows, maybe the world. God is able to do infinitely more than we ask or even imagine.

Long life –

My mother turned 93 here on earth. I will soon travel to Brazil to bring my mother back, spend time with my family, and at the same time promote the work among partner churches. The goal will be to share field updates, present the vision and future challenges, and reach new partners.

Give thanks to God with me for what He has already done and will certainly still do for us. His mercies never end.

Pray with me:

- Visits and outreach in Brazil
- The legalization of CrisBel
- Conversion of people in Cartaxo
- Conversion of people in Santo Antão do Tojal – Loures
- The continuation of the ministry in schools and in discipling the younger ones.
